HOUSE HITS.

HOUSE HITS.

Lowry "nose" everything.

Rev. Barniz has had circulated a handsome historical and descriptive pamphlet, accompanied by an inviation to his church, the English Lutheran. Each member found one on his deak yesterday.

A bill was read in the House authorizing the Governor to employ Gen. White as assistant counsel for the State in certain suits against the C. & O. railroad. Judge Ferguson had the name of Gen. White stricken out, so that in case he could not act another could be employed. Judge Morrow says the word "White" was stricken out in accordance with the Supreme Court decision in the Taylor Strauder case.

A CARD

AUARD

From the Late Superintendent of the Gas Works.

Editors Intelligencer.

In the statement over the signature of I. M. Dillon, that appeared in the INTELLIGENCER of the 27th inst., it is intimated in unmistakable terms that I have in some way been instrumental in causing the recent trouble amongst the employes at the Gas Works, arising from the employment of colored men to the exclusion of the white workmen. Mr. Dillen says that "I hoped to be benefitted by his downfall, if that strike had been a success in bringing him into dicgrace." I respectfully, and sa matter of justice, sak to be allowed space for a few remarks in reply to his unwarranted assertions.

Most of those white men are strangers to me. I know two of them, but I can say, and am prepared to substantiate it in and the three white mea are strangers to me. I know two of them, but I can say, and am prepared to substantiate it in the most solemn manner, that while these men were employed at the Gas Works under Mr. Dillon I have had no conversation with them directly or indirectly on the subject of the "strike." I have had nothing to do with it. Can Mr. Dillon show that I had? Can he show that I have ever tried to influence any of his employes to his disadvantage? Or has this card of his appeared merely because it was deemed appropriate for the morning of a city election?

Mr. Dillon takes occasion to mention my "creed and politics." He might do better if, instead of occupying his mind with other men's "creed and politics," he would devote his leasure hours to studying the duties of his new position, and accessionate the state of the latter with the state of the search control of the contr

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Several petitions were submitted, among them two asking the abolishment of the convict labor contract system, espesially as regards the making of cigars.

Among the bills read a first time was the one appropriating $100,000 to complete the Capitol at Charleston. The resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the mannfacture or sale of intoxicating liquors was also read the first time.

Senator Wood's bill to allow colored persons to serve on juries was also read the third time, and passed by a utanimous vole.

Mr. Fulkerson occupied the chair during a part of the afternoon, and assistant clerk Horner relieved Col. Peyton, and his melifilinous tones lulled the Delegates into a state of mind strangely in contrast with that of the afternoon before.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Mr. Bell, of Min-

In the late doalings a firmer tone prevailed, and at the close prices showed a recovery of ½a3½ per cent, Western Union, Manhattan Elevated, American, Union Pacific, Texas Pacific and the Coat shares leading in the improvement. The late advance was caused by the report, which was verified sometime after the close of business, that the three Telegraph Companies had consolidated.

The Express says: There is a marked increase in our foreign trade in provisions this year. Since January the exports of out meats from New York alone will be no less than 56,000,000 pounds, against 50,000,000 for the same time last year, and of lard 26,000,000 pounds, against only 19,000,000 pounds, against only 19,000,000 pounds.

The sudden ratification of the telegraph consolidation scheme was evidently for the object of forestalling any action by the State Senate on the bill passed by the Assembly yesterday. The decline in Alton & Terre Haute preferred shares was caused by disappointment with the dividend.
